

Understanding Karma Police: The Perceived Plausibility of Noun Compounds as Predicted by Distributional Models of Semantic Representation

The final version of this manuscript is still in production and will be uploaded as soon as the production process is finished